As part of its continuing commitment to comprehensive support for the needs of its customers, Solid State Equipment Corporation has promoted Ramey Youssef to become Technical Support Manager. In this new position, Ramey will be responsible for providing rapid, technical resolutions to customers, in addition to project management responsibilities.

Mr. Youssef brings an industry background to the job, with experience in device fabrication, including a formal education in Chemical Engineering. At SSEC, Ramey has been intensively involved in system configuration, construction, and service, building intimate familiarity with the products and our customers' needs and priorities. He has both the technical proficiency and managerial capability to provide rapid solutions for SSEC's valued customers.
